Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue of the International Journal of Environmental Research and Public Health invites the submission of research papers and reviews on environmental metal exposures and health risk assessment, with a specific focus on the following topics:

- Biomarkers for cumulative metal exposure;
- Environmental justice issues specific to metal exposure;
- Metal exposure in low-and-middle income countries;
- Metal exposure and risk of adverse health outcomes;
- Assessment of metal exposures from personal care products or food sources;
- Occupational exposure to metals;
- Life-course measurements of metal exposure;
- Analytical methods for analyzing mixed metal co-exposures.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Addressing the environmental and public health challenges requires engagement and collaboration among clinicians and public health researchers. Discovery and advances in this research field play a critical role in providing a scientific basis for decision-making toward control and prevention of human diseases, especially the illnesses that are induced from environmental exposure to health hazards. IJERPH provides a forum for discussion of discoveries and knowledge in these multidisciplinary fields. Please consider publishing your research in this high quality, peer-reviewed, open access journal.
