Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Geospatial online applications and services are a new area that has been developed because of the availability of new, high-quality geographic data and that has enabled a rapid expansion of a range of business, governmental, and nonprofit services. In this Special Issue, we look for all topics related to this overall theme. These topics include the following:

- Geospatial services in the Cloud
- Geospatial data dissemination
- Geospatial training services
- Big Earth data initiative (BEDI)-based applications
- Geospatial and spatiotemporal data semantics
- Web-GIS systems development issues
- Human-computer interaction in geospatial systems
- Climate adaptation planning
- Environmental pollution control
- Remote sensing application

We welcome submissions on other related topics in addition to those in the above non-inclusive list of items. Please contact the Special Issue editors in case of any concern regarding fit into the Special Issue or other questions.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The ISPRS International Journal of Geo-Information invites you to submit research articles, reviews, and reports covering topics of the whole domain of geo-information. Although the journal was only founded in 2012, it has already achieved wide recognition in the scientific community. We are proud that since April 2015, our journal is indexed by the SCIE of the Web of Science. As Editor-in-Chief, I encourage you to consider IJGI for your scientific papers and would be pleased to welcome you as authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), GeoRef, PubAg, dblp, Astrophysics Data System, Inspec, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Remote Sensing) / CiteScore - Q1 (Geography, Planning and Development)
