Message from the Guest Editor

The field of genomics in liver cancer is rapidly evolving and is now of critical importance to the oncologic and surgical management of this complex set of diseases. As such, we are leading a Special Issue of the International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS) focused on molecular and genomic changes that impact the care of primary and/or secondary malignancies. These findings could be biomarker focused (saliva, blood, etc.) or tissue based, as all such findings are becoming exceptionally relevant.

This Special Issue is supervised by Dr. Federico Aucejo and assisted by our Topical Advisory Panel Member, Dr. Chase J. Wehrle (Digestive Diseases and Surgery Institute). We welcome all submissions, including original and review articles.

Thank you for your time. We look forward to collaborating on these critical topics.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
