Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue is the continuation of our previous special issue "Advances in the Molecular Mechanisms of Absciscic Acid and Gibberellins Functions in Plants".

This Special issue will focus on the most recent advances in ABA and GA functions in the regulation of plant growth, development as well as in the response to abiotic stress. The submission of works reporting ABA and GA crosstalk, as well as the integration of GA and ABA action with other plant hormones and/or environmental cues are especially encouraged. Notwithstanding, contributions on other related topics aimed at understanding the molecular mechanisms of ABA and/or GA action in plants are also welcomed, including reviews and original research articles.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
