Message from the Guest Editor

Mitochondria are highly dynamic and responsive organelles, presenting multifaceted functions depending on environmental conditions and cellular requirements. Mitochondria are the hub for diverse signal processors that are fundamental to cellular homeostasis, energy production, metabolism, survival, and death. Mitochondrial remodeling, including rearranging, recycling, and reprogramming, is essential for mitochondrial quality control, structural integrity, and functional interaction with other cellular organelles. Although we are still far from fully understanding the complexity of mitochondrial remodeling, it has been implicated in the pathogenesis of many human disorders, including cancer and aging-related diseases. With the advent of new information, technologies, and methodologies, it is time to delineate the significance and enigmatic mechanisms relevant to the remodeling of mitochondria in response to pathophysiological stresses more precisely and comprehensively. Therefore, we kindly invite you to contribute to this Special Issue with original research articles or comprehensive reviews at molecular level.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
