Dear Colleagues,

Skin cancer is a pressing global health concern with increasing incidence rates, and this Special Issue aims to provide a platform for the dissemination of cutting-edge research and knowledge in this field. Our objective is to collect a diverse range of research articles, reviews, and original contributions that address various aspects of skin cancer, including its etiology, pathogenesis, diagnostic approaches, novel therapies, and prevention strategies.

We invite contributions from researchers, clinicians, scientists, and pathologists to submit their work on topics such as melanoma, non-melanoma skin cancers, risk factors, molecular mechanisms, therapeutic strategies, and emerging technologies. Our goal is to foster a multidisciplinary approach, promoting collaboration between experts in dermatology, oncology, genetics, molecular biology, and pathology.

Through this Special Issue, we aim to advance our knowledge of skin cancer, ultimately contributing to better diagnostic methods, treatment options, and preventive measures. We look forward to receiving high-quality research papers and reviews here.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
