Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

It is my pleasure to inform you about the Special Issue “Regeneration for Spinal Disease”. Spinal diseases place a significant burden on the general population. The prevalence of degenerative spinal diseases, including intervertebral disc degeneration and osteoporosis, increases with age, and the affected population may suffer from long-term disability. The most serious conditions affecting the spine include spinal cord injury due to traumatic or non-traumatic causes (e.g., cancer, infection). Despite recent advancements in the management of these spinal diseases, there is growing research interest in discovering a novel therapeutic strategy.

This Special Issue focuses on regenerative therapy for spinal diseases, including spinal cord injury, intervertebral disc degeneration, osteoporosis, and pseudarthrosis.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
