Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The goal of this Special Issue is to bring together experts studying GABAergic and/or glycinergic neurons. It will present studies on (1) the structure and function of GABAergic/glycinergic neurons, (2) the development of GABAergic/glycinergic networks that involve switching from excitatory neurons to inhibitory ones, (3) new mechanisms and roles of GABAergic/glycinergic neurons in behavior, (4) diseases related to GABAergic/glycinergic neurons, and (5) research tools for investigating GABAergic/glycinergic neurons. This Special Issue will welcome original research articles focusing on GABAergic and/or glycinergic neurons and review articles discussing our current knowledge of GABAergic and/or glycinergic neurons.

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.
High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.
Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry & Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
