Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleague,

The aim of this Special Issue is to collect molecular approaches in diagnostic advancements and targeted therapy outcomes of OSAS and other sleep disorders.

In particular, we will consider papers regarding:

Novel aspects of CPAP treatment and interventions to improve CPAP adherence;

Emerging the pharmacotherapy of OSA;

Evaluation of OSA-related biomarkers;

Pathogenetic mechanisms and consequences of OSA;

Chronic intermittent hypoxia;

Sleep fragmentation;

Innovative therapies for OSA treatment.

We are certain that your active collaboration would help to create an interesting Special Issue that will aid physicians in identifying the most appropriate therapeutic choice for patients affected by sleep disorders.
