Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

As the field of spintronics undergoes swift advancements, an increasing array of sophisticated magnetic materials is being unveiled, showcasing parallel growth in magnetism. This Special Issue within Inventions, published by MDPI, spotlights key topics such as the synthesis methodologies for magnetic materials, especially nanoscale materials, advancements in 2D magnetic materials and 2D spintronic devices, techniques for measuring and characterizing magnetic materials, applications of magnetic materials, innovations in spintronic devices, and the exploration of magnetism associated with novel magnetic materials and spintronic devices.

Message from the Editorial Board

The unique journal Inventions is different from all other journals. Many scholars spend their lives publishing research papers in many different journals, but most of these journals do not help scholars collate and analyze their results or assist in promoting them to a relevant industry. However, Inventions will help authors not only to publish their papers in the journal, but also to promote their research results to industry and assist them in realizing the purpose of technology transfer. In the future, Inventions will help authors to evaluate their technology license fees based on the valuation theory and approaches and also help authors to show their patents and technologies on a network transaction platform.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, ESCI (Web of Science), Inspec, Ei Compendex and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Engineering, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Engineering)
