Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to investigate new scenarios and challenges in the field of kidney transplantation.

This Special Issue invites original research articles, review papers, and clinical studies that contribute to enrich our knowledge about kidney transplantation. We encourage submissions focusing on topics such as urologic cancers in transplanted patients, surgical challenges in kidney transplantation, and the use of technology for patient-tailored clinical management.

We kindly request that authors refrain from submitting mini-reviews and case reports for this Special Issue. Instead, we seek in-depth research articles and comprehensive reviews that present novel findings and insights into kidney transplantation.

This Special Issue aims to foster interdisciplinary discussions and promote collaborations to address the pressing issues faced in kidney transplantation. We believe that this collection of articles will serve as a valuable resource for clinicians and researchers involved in improving patient outcomes and advancing the field of kidney transplantation.
