Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

We are currently working on a Special Issue of the Journal of Clinical Medicine focusing on the treatment of coronary artery disease.

In particular, this Special Issue will focus on:

Acute and long-term antithrombotic therapy, particularly with potent antiplatelet inhibitors

Novelties in lipid-lowering therapies

New invasive and non-invasive tools for the identification of patients and lesions benefiting from coronary revascularization

Optimal treatment of high-risk patients (e.g., patients with diabetes and/or chronic kidney disease)

Technical advancements in percutaneous revascularization, particularly for complex high-risk indicated procedures (CHIPs)

Prognostic assessment of coronary revascularization interventions, both surgical and percutaneous

We would be very happy to receive your contribution, and we look forward to receiving your input for this exciting project.
