Message from the Guest Editors

In 2020, our first Special Issue on “Sepsis: Current Clinical Practices and New Perspectives” was launched (https://www.mdpi.com/journal/jcm/special\_issues/Sepsis\_Clinic). We were able to collect a large number of expert manuscripts on the whole spectrum of research on SIRS and sepsis underlining the importance of JCM as one important platform for researchers worldwide. Part I covered both clinical and basic immunological research on hyperinflammation and was such a success that we have decided to edit another Special Issue as an update for the last edition.

In part II, we welcome articles providing new insights into a) new pharmacological pathways and targets in innate immunity, b) new tools for the rapid diagnosis of SIRS and sepsis (also including COVID-19-testing), and c) novel therapeutic approaches for inflammatory disorders, postoperative inflammation, and complication management.

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Medicine, General and Internal) / CiteScore - Q1 (General Medicine)
