Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The clinical and scientific evolution of cardiac rehabilitation (CR) for the secondary prevention of cardiovascular disease has resulted in a comprehensive multidisciplinary therapy for patients that yields crucial improvements in clinical, physiological, and behavioral health outcomes. Recent, rapid developments in generational health-focused smart technologies have introduced new resources and opportunities for the CR field to leverage in its next era-defining evolution. In this Special Issue, we aim to highlight contemporary advances that are occurring in the field of CR. We appreciate your consideration in submitting your cutting-edge research and scientific manuscripts for possible publication in our Special Issue spotlighting the clinical advances in cardiac rehabilitation.
