Message from the Guest Editors

Dear colleagues,

Ocean wave energy converters (WECs) have emerged as a promising technology for harnessing renewable energy from the vast resources of the ocean. This Special Issue aims to explore various aspects related to the performance of ocean wave energy converters.

The topics of interest include, but are not limited to:

- Design and optimization of WECs;
- Performance evaluation and monitoring;
- Wave resource assessment;
- Control and operation strategies;
- Environmental impact assessment ;

The Journal of Marine Science and Engineering (JMSE; ISSN 2077-1312) is an international peer-reviewed open access journal which provides an advanced forum for studies related to marine science and engineering. The journal aims to provide scholarly research on a range of topics, including ocean engineering, chemical oceanography, physical oceanography, marine biology and marine geosciences. We invite you to publish in our journal sharing your important research findings with the global ocean community.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed with Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), GeoRef, Inspec, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Engineering, Marine) / CiteScore - Q2 (Civil and Structural Engineering)
