Message from the Guest Editor

The Journal of Fungi has launched a Special Issue on “Dimorphic Fungal Pathogen: Coccidioides and Coccidioidomycosis”. In this issue, research and review manuscripts about coccidioidal pathogenesis and coccidioidomycosis are welcome. Manuscripts may describe research on host–pathogen interactions, genetic predispositions to coccidioidomycosis, coccidioidal epidemiology, expanding geographic regions for the disease, and rare clinical presentations of the disease. We encourage submission of papers describing novel therapeutic or diagnostic methods for early and prompt diagnosis of coccidioidomycosis.
