Personalized medicine is developing fast, and new data are emerging in huge amounts. This might enable the right risk assessment, diagnosis, prevention, and therapy specifically tailored to the unique characteristics of the individual, thus enhancing the quality of life as well as public health. Therefore, the aim of this Special Issue is to present recent developments in personalized medicine and coronary artery disease.

We invite authors to submit original clinical studies, reviews, meta-analyses, as well as case reports focused on the individualization of the prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of coronary artery disease, including myocardial infarction. We are soliciting not only genetic studies, but all papers on the broadly understood personalized medicine, including papers on novel drugs, medical devices, or approaches dedicated to special subsets of patients.

Journal of Personalized Medicine (JPM; ISSN 2075-4426) is an international, open access journal aimed at bringing all aspects of personalized medicine to one platform. JPM publishes cutting edge, innovative preclinical and translational scientific research and technologies related to personalized medicine (e.g., precision medicine, pharmacogenomics/proteomics, systems biology, 'omics association analysis). JPM is covered in Scopus, the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE), PubMed, PMC, Embase, and other databases.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.
High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, and other databases.
Journal Rank: JCR - Q1 (Medicine, General and Internal) / CiteScore - Q2 (Medicine (miscellaneous))
