Message from the Guest Editors

Musculoskeletal diseases have a great socioeconomic impact and are an important cause of disability. Sport, work, genetics, and old age can be causes of these pathologies, which represent an ever-present medical challenge.

This Special Issue aims to explore all the aspects concerning musculoskeletal diseases, starting from clinical complaints, with a special emphasis on pain and its disabling consequences, and continuing with therapy and rehabilitation. In particular, traditional approaches and new treatments will be addressed.

We especially encourage the submission of interdisciplinary works and multi-country collaborative research. We welcome submissions of original research papers using different study designs and critical and relevant reviews, including systematic reviews, methodological papers, and manuscripts that emphasize theoretical content.
