Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Rapid urbanization and related land use changes are key challenges of the 21st century and one of the primary causes of environmental degradation. This can be initiated by integrating urban design with landscape architecture, and architectures and environments through an inter- and trans-disciplinary and trans-scalar approach to planning and design. This Special Issue welcomes innovation-oriented articles related to the topics listed below.

- Integration of urban design, landscape architecture, and architecture
- Urban environmental and ecological restoration
- Multifunctional land use
- Integration of green, blue, and grey infrastructure
- Novel urban green systems
- Urban agriculture, horticulture, and gardening
- Urban ecology and multi-species design
- Decision support systems for integrating urban design, landscape architecture, and architecture
- Data-driven design for integrating urban design, landscape architecture, and architecture
