Message from the Guest Editors

The goal of this Special Issue is to showcase the state of the art of speech analysis tools and techniques by compiling fundamental studies on L2 speech acquisition, as well as studies with an applied perspective that use speech analysis techniques and tools to teach and/or evaluate L2 production or perception. We welcome contributions on a range of topics, including the following:

- Innovative speech analysis techniques, methodologies or tools to study the acquisition of L2 speech patterns (production and/or perception), or discussions of the limits of specific L1-designed tools and methodologies for studying L2 speech data;
- The development and/or use of speech analysis tools (acoustic or articulatory) in the context of L2 classrooms to improve learners' pronunciation;
- Innovations in the field of CAPT software for L2 pronunciation feedback and/or scoring.
