Linguistic Practices in Heritage Language Acquisition

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue seeks to contribute to the existing body of knowledge on HL acquisition by providing new insights into the complex dynamics involved in the acquisition and maintenance of lesser-explored languages. It also aims to explore effective pedagogical approaches facilitating HL acquisition and maintenance. It endeavors to empower HL communities by shedding light on tested strategies of language maintenance and revitalization, and by examining the impact of societies' language policies on HLs. It is the goal of the editors to encourage interdisciplinary collaboration by bringing together scholars from linguistics, education, sociology, anthropology, and related fields to exchange ideas and perspectives on HL acquisition.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Languages (ISSN 2226-471X) is now in its eighth year since its inception in 2015. It is an Open Access journal which seeks to stimulate debates on key issues in languages and linguistics. We welcome papers at the cutting edge of different fields, ranging from applied linguistics to descriptive and theoretical linguistics. Submissions may consist of research articles and critical reviews as well as proposals for Special Issues where multi-disciplinary approaches and different perspectives on current issues are explored. We invite you to consider Languages as a forum for sharing your work.
