Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims to provide current frontier research and a glimpse into the future of the management of coronary syndromes, hypercholesterolemia, and hypertension and to highlight areas of prevention and treatment with a view towards most optimal management strategies.

We would like to encourage researchers to submit their research studies and review articles into this Special Issue in Life. Especially invited are clinical research articles exploring new frontiers of coronary syndromes, hypercholesterolemia and hypertension, and the hottest topics in cardiovascular research.

The editors hope that readers of this issue of the Life will find it of interest.

Potential topics may include the following:

- Chronic coronary syndromes
- Acute coronary syndromes
- Hypercholesterolemia
- Atherosclerosis
- Uric Acid
- Lipoprotein (a)
- Heart failure
