Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

“Early Career Stars (ECS) in Physiology and Pathology” is a Special Issue that aims to collect scientific contributions from early career researchers exploring timely aspects of human physiology and pathology.

In order to support young physiologists and pathologists and give them an international open access platform on which to display their achievements, we built this Special Issue and would like to encourage them to contribute their high-quality, innovative, and breakthrough work.

This Special Issue accepts manuscripts in the form of original research articles or reviews where the first author or corresponding author is an ECS (students and scholars who are at the undergraduate, graduate, or post-graduate level—up to 10 years post-doctoral degree.).
