Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

The Special Issue “Bone Graft for Bone Regeneration and Dental Implants” aims to offer a broad overview of the latest concept of minimally invasive surgery for ideal dental implant placement and bone regeneration in the presence of bone defects. We intend to summarize the most recent procedures that satisfy both patients and clinicians through an implant treatment that minimizes complications.

This Special Issue will present scientific research works, clinical studies, reviews, case series studies, etc., related to minimally invasive bone grafts, regenerative medicine for bone regeneration, and digitally guided implant therapy to place an implant in an ideal position at the same time as a bone graft.
