Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The 5th International Conference Implementation of Microreactor Technology in Biotechnology (IMTB 2019) took place in Cavtat, Croatia, from 19th to 22nd May 2019. The IMTB conference aims to provide a platform for people from industry and academia, working in the cross-section of microfluidics, life sciences, analytics, and bioprocess engineering. The interdisciplinary feature of the IMTB conferences enables participants to present and discuss their latest results, developments, and strategies within these complementary fields and to integrate them to gain new accomplishments for industrial implementation.

We welcome manuscripts comprising the following topics:

1. Enzymatic microreactors
2. Cells within microdevices
3. Analytical microdevices
4. Bioprocess intensification and integration

We hope that this Special Issue will further promote the implementation of microflow systems in biotechnological research and industrial application.
