Message from the Guest Editors

The development of micro and nanodevices for blood analysis is an interdisciplinary subject that demands an integration of several research fields such as biotechnology, medicine, chemistry, informatics, optics, electronics, mechanics, and micro/nanotechnologies. In this Special Issue, we invite contributions (original research papers, review articles, and brief communications) that focus on the latest advances and challenges in micro and nano devices for diagnostics and blood analysis, micro and nanofluidics, technologies for flows visualization, MEMS, biochips and lab-on-a-chip devices and their application to research and industry. We hope to provide an opportunity to the engineering and biomedical community to exchange knowledge and information and bring together researchers who are interested in the general field of MEMS and micro/nanofluidics, especially in its applications to biomedical areas.

You are invited to contribute research articles or comprehensive reviews for consideration and publication in Micromachines (ISSN 2072-666X). Micromachines is published in the open access format. Research articles, reviews and other contents are released on the internet immediately after acceptance. The scientific community and the general public have unlimited free access to the content as soon as it is published. As an open access journal, Micromachines is supported by the authors or their institutes by payment of article processing charges (APC) for accepted papers. We are pleased to welcome you as our authors.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Ei Compendex, dblp, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Chemistry, Analytical) / CiteScore - Q2 (Mechanical Engineering)
