Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Cardiometabolic diseases, including, among others, atherosclerosis, diabetes type 2, and liver steatosis, are the main cause of morbidity and mortality in the world. An accumulating body of evidence indicates that some naturally occurring molecules, partly present in diet or traditional medicinal plants, are able to modulate the initiation or the progression of this group of disorders.

This Special Issue aims at summarizing current developments in the targeted area of research. We, therefore, encourage submission of reviews or original research papers studying in vitro or in vivo the action of natural molecules on cellular signaling pathways, proteins, or physiological reactions relevant for cardiometabolic disease.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.

Author Benefits

Open Access: free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Reaxys, CaPlus / SciFinder, MarinLit, AGRIS, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Chemistry, Multidisciplinary) / CiteScore - Q1 (Chemistry (miscellaneous))
