Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue will focus on how to use ionic liquids in the preparation of samples for analysis. Publications should cover the methods of their implementation in extraction techniques as well as their application in practice. It is also possible to publish papers relating to the physicochemical properties of ionic liquids, important for their use in analytical techniques.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
