Dear Colleagues,

We are pleased to announce that Nanomaterials is now inviting nominations for the Nanomaterials 2022 Young Investigator Award. Nanomaterials Young Investigator Award is an award established since 2018 by Nanomaterials Journal. The award is awarded to young investigators in recognition of their excellence in the field of nanoscience and technology.

This year the prize will be given to three young investigators. All nominations will be assessed by an Award Committee led by the Editor-in-Chief, Prof. Dr. Shirley Chiang.

The Prize:

- One first prize: CHF 2000 (Swiss Francs);
- Two second prizes: CHF 800 (Swiss Francs);
- Each winner will have the option to publish one paper, as a corresponding author, free of charge, in Nanomaterials in 2023, following peer review;
- Each winner will receive an engraved plaque.

Eligibility and Requirements:

- Hold a Ph.D. degree and be below 40 years of age prior to 31 December 2022;
- Must have ground-breaking research and made a significant contribution to the advancement of this research field;
- Candidates must be nominated by senior researchers, research directors, or department heads.

List of Documents for Nomination:

- Detailed curriculum vitae, including an updated publication list and a list of the researcher's own research grants;
- Birth certificate or other proof of age;
- Scanned copy of doctorate certificate;
- Signed nomination letters from two established senior scientists.

Schedule:

Open for nominations: 1 February 2022.
