Bioactive Polymers for Osteochondral Regeneration Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

Polymers entail a wide-ranging clinical application and are of particular interest in healthcare. Recently, new methods to synthesize bioactive polymers and their potential to regenerate various tissues have gained popularity due to their low production costs and undemanding processing methods. Even with these splendid developments, there is a need for additional investigation to pursue advantageous bioactive polymer for medicine and dentistry-related clinical applications. Therefore, publishing developments related to these bioactive polymers would be advantageous for researchers, academicians and physicians.

- synthetic and natural biopolymers
- hydrogel
- bioactive materials
- tissue engineering
- regenerative medicine
- scaffolds for bone and cartilage tissue regeneration
- cellular and tissue-based products
- drug delivery
- biofunctionalization

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Pharmaceutics (ISSN 1999-4923) is an online open access journal on the science and technology of pharmaceuticals and biopharmaceuticals. The scientific community, the wider community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as a paper is published; this open access to your research ensures your findings are shared with the widest possible audience. Please consider publishing your impressive work in this high quality journal. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.

Author Benefits

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Pharmacology and Pharmacy) / CiteScore - Q1 (Pharmaceutical Science)

Rapid Publication:

manuscripts are peer-reviewed and a first decision is provided to authors approximately 14.9 days after submission; acceptance to publication is undertaken in 3.4 days (median values for papers published in this journal in the first half of 2024).
