Message from the Guest Editor

The special issue on optical diagnostics will focus on presenting the current state-of-the-art optical imaging techniques both for industrial as well as medical applications. Researchers are invited to submit their contributions to this Special Issue. Topics include, but are not limited to:

- Widefield imaging
- Confocal imaging
- Phase-contrast imaging
- Molecular (Raman) imaging
- Optical coherence tomography,
- Doppler imaging,
- Photoacoustic imaging,
- Super-resolution microscopy,
- Diffuse optical tomography
- Hyperspectral imaging

The submitted article can relate to either the development of the technique itself or its applications.
