Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

Polymer materials are widely used in a variety of fields given their properties and functionality. This Special Issue will mostly focus on those polymer-based materials used for agri-food applications. Other potential topics include, but are not limited to, the following: the new development of packaging materials, e.g. active packaging, nanocomposites, and biodegradable alternatives to petroleum-based materials; novel edible films and coatings; the slow or controlled release of bioactive compounds from polymer matrices; bio-based alternatives to plastics in agriculture, e.g., planting pots, mulching, and seed trays; superabsorbent polymers used for food packaging, and soil conditioners; and emerging polymer processing, such as 3D printing and electrohydrodynamic techniques for different agri-food applications.
