Message from the Guest Editors

The applications of novel standalone polymeric-based technology are critical to successfully eliminate a variety of organic and inorganic impurities concurrently from water and wastewater. The main topic that we will focus on in the present Special Issue (SI) is suggesting some practical, sustainable and eco-friendly solutions based on novel polymeric materials, highlighting their applications in water and wastewater treatment. Assessment of the chemical, physical and morphological characteristics of polymers and their optimization by using different research tools is an important research aim about which we encourage submissions for inclusion in this SI, supported by the feasibility and efficiency of the suggested solutions.

Deadline for manuscript submissions:

closed (10 November 2022)
