Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to present recent advances on the degradation and stabilization of polymer systems and their micro- and nanocomposites. Potential topics include but are not limited to:

- Advances in photodegradation and photo-oxidation of polymer and polymer composites;
- Advances in thermal degradation of polymer and polymer composites;
- New flame retardants for polymers and polymer composites;
- New bio-based strategies for enhancing the thermal, photo-oxidative, and fire resistance of polymer and polymer composites;

New insights in modeling the degradation of polymers and polymer composites.
