Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to provide the current landscape of the research on mechanical performance and modelling of polymeric materials. The topics of interest include the following aspects:

- mechanical performance of polymeric materials and polymer-based composites
- computational modelling and simulation for polymeric materials and polymer-based composites
- advanced multiscale computational techniques and their applications
- bio-inspired mathematical models
- optimization of the mechanical properties
- structures generation
- structure-properties relationship

The goal of this Special Issue is to bring together researchers, share ideas, and provide a platform to showcase recent research advances.
