Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue will focus on humanist and other forms of secular spiritual care, the key concepts that underlie the work and the way these emerge in practice.

This Special Issue may include the following topics:

- Concepts related to humanist/secular spiritual care, e.g., autonomy, resilience, horizontal transcendence, connectedness, dignity, recognition, and resonance;
- Changing settings and populations;
- The development of new humanist/secular spiritual care practices or approaches in traditional settings;
- The implementation of existing humanist/secular interventions or approaches in new settings or with new groups;
- The design of effective models of humanist/secular spiritual care;
- Educational programs addressing humanist/secular spiritual care;
- Professional ethics and/or ethical dilemmas in humanist/secular spiritual care;
- The political aim of humanist spiritual care to promote humanization in organizations and society, and its relationship with the spiritual focus.
