Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

In this Special Issue, we invite high-quality research papers discussing new ideas related (but not limited) to the following questions:

- How are CCPs operating in the global world?
- What are the main tendencies and challenges CCPs are facing?
- How can CCPs comply with regulatory requirements?
- How can CCPs balance between contradictory objectives such as prudent operation and competitiveness?
- How do CCPs contribute to netting trading positions and compressing markets?
- How can the operation of CCPs be improved (more frequent settlements, merger or division of guarantee funds, improvement of trading platform and market infrastructure, etc.)
- How should CCPs be regulated to avoid procyclicality?
- How should special (gas, electricity, derivative, etc.) markets be regulated?
- How can “too-big-to-fail” CCPs be recovered in the case of a default?
- What are the unintended consequences of the present regulatory framework?
