Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

ICCCAS is an annual conference series that has been taking place since 2002. Its 10-year history has involved thousands of delegates' participation and contributions, and ICCAS is a forum for presenting excellent results and new challenges facing the field of communications, circuits, and systems. It brings together experts from industry, governments, and academia, experienced in engineering, design, and research, attracting many submissions from academia and industry. This Special Issue will publish some selected outstanding papers accepted by ICCAS after they have been through extensive revisions following the format of the journal of Sensors. The distribution of published papers in this Special Issue will be balanced among the three major research fields of communication, circuits, and systems.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.
