Message from the Guest Editors

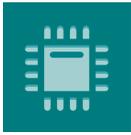

Dear Colleagues,

The aim of this Special Issue is to provide a comprehensive survey on state-of-the-art sensor technology in China. Research articles are solicited which correlate findings in the design of novel optical, magnetic, electronic, and electrochemical devices for detection of the presence of chemicals or changes in physical properties. The Special Issue will publish full research/review papers addressing the above topics.

This special issue is focused more on Sensors. Papers focus on sensors may choose our joint Special Issue in Biosensors (ISSN 2079-6374, IF 3.240).
