Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

We are planning to publish a Special Issue, entitled as “State-of-the-Art Chemical Sensors in Korea”. With the recent development of Korea's 4th industry along with the advent of the IoT era, research on a variety of sensors has been very active, making significant progress. In particular, chemical sensors are becoming core technologies of future society, because the detection of gases, ions, and liquids is important for monitoring various phenomena and maintaining human health. As a result, Korean researchers in universities and research institutes are publishing world-level research achievements. Accordingly, it will be very urgent and useful to collect recent researches in Korea and understand the research trends of chemical sensors. The goal of this Special Issue is to invite high-quality, state-of-the-art research papers that deal with issues which are directly or indirectly related to chemical sensors in a broad sense. We invite to submit unpublished original papers.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access : free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Chemistry, Analytical) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)
