Message from the Guest Editors

In this Special Issue, we will cover IoT systems, architectures, and services related with AAL. We invite researchers who are working on IoT systems for AAL, ranging from smart object architectures and services to cloud computing, fog computing, and edge computing, among others, to submit their high-quality original manuscript for publication in this Special Issue.

- IoT for AAL: devices, communication networks, protocols, architectures, applications and services
- Big data and IoT data analytics
- Cloud computing, fog computing and edge computing
- AI and Edge AI for AAL
- Smart objects' architectures and services
- Security frameworks for IoT and AAL
- Cloud services and analytics
- Scalable and secure architectures for IoT
- Microservices and serverless environments
- Energy efficient architectures for IoT applications
- Intelligent home appliances
- Connected and secure homes
- Energy efficient protocols for IoT
- Software defined networks for AAL
- Virtual and augmented reality for AAL
- Robotics for AAL

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access : free for readers, with article processing charges \(APC\) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility: indexed within Scopus, SCIE \(Web of Science\), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank: JCR - Q2 (Chemistry, Analytical) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)
