Message from the Guest Editor

Dear Colleagues,

While the success of Applied Behaviour Analysis in the field of autism has led to a significant expansion of the profession across North America, the same cannot be said about the rest of the world. For this Special Edition, we seek papers that elucidate a variety of obstacles to the uptake of Applied Behaviour Analysis, including influences on government policy, practice issues, conceptual issues, educational and/or professional training standards, parent training, advocacy and human rights issues, misinformation, and cultural issues. If the Special Issue publishes more than 10 papers, we will print it as an e-book. The book would be made available, for free, in a digital format on the MDPI platform (<http://books.mdpi.com>).

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Societies (ISSN 2075-4698) is an interdisciplinary journal that brings together different scientific approaches to engage with societal questions to enhance our understanding of the social realm throughout history. The journal publishes original empirical research papers, literature reviews, and conceptual papers. Our aim is to publish papers that have a significant impact on addressing present and emerging societal questions. Therefore, we encourage researchers to publish their results in as much detail as possible. For empirical research papers and literature reviews, all experimental details must be provided, so that the results are reproducible. We also encourage the publication of timely theoretical pieces on topics of interest to existing and emerging societal questions. Papers are either published in the open journal or in Special Issues devoted to specific topics of interest to the field.
