Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

The journal Societies is seeking submissions for a Special Issue focused on contemporary Indigenous peoples' health. Health is broadly and holistically defined here and includes Indigenous physical, mental, emotional, spiritual, environmental, cultural, and community health. Manuscripts should be focused on research, projects, programs, interventions, and so forth, focusing on Indigenous peoples and/or in Indigenous communities in the Americas, Caribbean, Africa, Asia, Australia, or any other location with Indigenous peoples. Applied, ethnographic, theoretical, and visual approaches are welcome, as are any other approaches that are compatible with the journal's scope. All academic disciplines are welcome, as are submissions from undergraduate and graduate students.

We look forward to receiving your contributions.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Societies (ISSN 2075-4698) is an interdisciplinary journal that brings together different scientific approaches to engage with societal questions to enhance our understanding of the social realm throughout history. The journal publishes original empirical research papers, literature reviews, and conceptual papers. Our aim is to publish papers that have a significant impact on addressing present and emerging societal questions. Therefore, we encourage researchers to publish their results in as much detail as possible. For empirical research papers and literature reviews, all experimental details must be provided, so that the results are reproducible. We also encourage the publication of timely theoretical pieces on topics of interest to existing and emerging societal questions. Papers are either published in the open journal or in Special Issues devoted to specific topics of interest to the field.
