Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue aims to curate the evergreen literature on tourism impacts on the sustainable development of destination cities/countries both from demand and supply perspectives. In other words, the issue will explore the impact of tourism development on the socio-cultural dynamics of the destination countries while also documenting the impacts with respect to environmental pollution, waste management, resource dependence and scarcity, tourist-resident/locals nexus and destination management organization supports.

In this Special Issue, original research articles and reviews are welcome. Research areas may include (but are not limited to) the following:

- Qualitative exploration of host-tourist relationship;
- Reviews of destination sustainable practices;
- Greening the destination;
- Sustainable tourism business models;
- Environmental impacts of tourism development;
- Carrying capacity and host tourism planning;
- Sustainable workforce for sustainable tourism practice;
- Public–corporate tourism policy synergy;
- Organization-focused sustainability strategies for tourism development;
- Resident’s environmentally friendly behavior.

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

I encourage you to contribute a research or comprehensive review article for consideration for publication in Sustainability, an international open access journal which provides an advanced forum for research findings in areas related to sustainability and sustainable development. The journal publishes original research articles, reviews, conference proceedings (peer reviewed full articles) and communications. I am confident you will find the journal contributes to enhancing understanding of sustainability and fostering initiatives and applications of sustainability-based measures and activities.
