Message from the Guest Editors

The primary focus of this SI will be to address the following research questions:

- How will Blockchain technologies help in improving supply chain management?
- What are the challenges for designing and implementing Blockchain technologies in sector-specific supply chains?
- How can advanced decision-making techniques help to enhance the supply chain effectiveness in Industry 4.0 and Blockchain era?
- How will Blockchain technologies integration help to improve the performance of supply chains involved with last-mile delivery?
- How can Blockchain technologies be integrated with Big Data and Industry 4.0 to improve the responsiveness and flexibility of supply chains?
- Will Blockchain technologies affect the resilience of the supply chains?
- How can OR models help to implement Blockchain technologies in the manufacturing sectors to enhance the sustainability of their supply chains?
