Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to participate in a Special Issue on open innovation in green products and performance research. The need for more sustainable development is an area that creates opportunities for scientists and business practitioners who strive to provide a competitive advantage through researching and implementing green innovations. It is also necessary to consider the participation of various stakeholder groups who can support sustainable development through their actions and involvement in open innovation and green products. These innovations are related to the concept of a circular economy, in particular with eco-design, activities for material and energy efficiency, extending product life cycle, and waste management. This Special Issue aims to explore and advance knowledge and practical applications of open innovation in the development and performance of green products to achieve sustainable development.
