Message from the Guest Editors

The purpose of this Special Issue is to collect state-of-the-art research that examines these new urban realities and explores the themes of advocacy, co-production and entrepreneurial initiatives connected to social innovation and transformative economies. In particular, we are seeking contributions that focus on three critical issues:

1. Local advocacy groups in marginal areas;
2. Urban regeneration initiatives led by place-based institutional schemes;
3. Open social innovation programs
