Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

This Special Issue welcomes all research articles related to this topic from the above disciplines. The original purpose of this Special Issue is to collect and publish the papers which were submitted to the 2020 IGC Conference's session of Geography, Habits, and Global Understanding. However, we also hope that more people will participate in this discussion. Habit is a relatively stable element in any culture, so it has an important impact on the shaping and sustaining of cultural landscapes. Sustainable development is sometimes harmonized with habits, and sometimes contradictory. Therefore, this Special Issue aims to accept articles discussing this, especially those that take cultural landscapes as the research object. We are sure that understanding the habits of different cultures in various regions around the world may foster global understanding among people.
