Message from the Guest Editors

Dear Colleagues,

Today, the transition to a circular economy is essential, as it reduces resource extraction, generates less waste, and improves the environment. This Special Issue, titled "Circular Economy Innovations: Strategies for Sustainable Resource Management", looks at how circular economic models can foster resilience, mitigate climate change, promote economic prosperity, and take socio-environmental responsibility.

In summary, "Circular Economy Innovations: Strategies for Sustainable Resource Management" is an essential resource for anyone interested in or involved in the transition to a more sustainable and resilient economic model. It aims to inspire and equip readers with the knowledge and tools needed to contribute to a future where economic activity strengthens natural and social capital rather than depleting it.
