Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue will consist of papers describing the state of the art in road traffic engineering and sustainable transportation systems development areas. Activities in the field of road traffic engineering, including road traffic analysis and research, as well as the practical application of knowledge about road traffic in the planning, designing, and operation of transport systems and processes, contribute to ensuring sustainable transportation systems development. This is achieved by providing conditions for the safe, efficient, and economic transportation of people and goods that does not have a negative impact on the environment.
